

About the STI Support Center

The DTRIAC has long provided threat reduction information to DTRA. The Agency recognized the need for on-site research and editing support and created the STI Center. The STI Center is located in the DTRC to conduct research, obtain reports, assist with program management, and provide editorial assistance.

RESEARCH Ask A Librarian!

A DTRIAC librarian is on-site to help with all your research questions.

- Liaison with DTRIAC / DTRA subject matter experts
- Expertise with DoD/military resources
- In-depth searching of sci/tech literature
- Proficient with document retrieval
- Commercial database searching

...But we all know—the quest for the right answer often doesn't stop there! And we don't either!

Ask us...

STINFO Program Support

The DoD requires that a comprehensive literature survey be conducted before project start-up to eliminate duplication of effort.

We can conduct a search of all relevant databases to ensure that you are spending valuable research dollars wisely.

We ensure that your results are reported to DTIC to benefit the entire DoD Community.

TECH EDITING Professional Results

Our on-site editors will ensure Technical Report (TR) submissions to DTRIAC and to DTIC adhere to DTRA Standards.

- Standard formatting
- Correct distribution statements
- Properly archived
- Coordinated dissemination and distribution
- Ensure TR contract deliverable close out

Digitized final technical reports may be e-mailed to DTRIAC at dtriac@dtra.mil or mailed to address listed on reverse.

with all your research and reporting needs.
