DTRA Mission

- DTRA enables Department of Defense (DoD), the U.S. Government, and International Partners to counter and deter weapons of mass destruction (WMD) and emerging threats
- DTRA works to protect U.S. national security interests in a rapidly evolving, globalized threat environment through its trans regional focus, enabling the understanding. DTRA, through its trans-regional focus and strong partnerships, protects U.S. National Security interests in a rapidly evolving, globalized threat environment to enable a greater understanding of our adversaries and provide solutions to WMD threats in an era of Great Power Competition.

Who We Are and What We Do

AL	The Acquisition, Contracts, and Logistics Directorate provides responsive solutions in acquisition, contracting, facilities, logistics, and engineering to enable the accomplishment of the Agency's mission.
CT	The Cooperative Threat Reduction Directorate implements the DoD Cooperative Threat Reduction (CTR) Program by working with partner countries to prevent the proliferation of Weapons of Mass Destruction (WMD) and eliminate chemical, biological, radiological, and nuclear (CBRN) threats.
HR	The Human Resources Directorate operates as a collaborative and strategic partner to acquire, develop, and sustain a highly competitive and diverse workforce supporting the mission, vision, and values of DTRA.
IT	The Information Technology Directorate projects the Agency's knowledge and capabilities for information sharing and situational awareness in a rapid and secure manner with DoD and Interagency Partners to counter and deter WMD and improvised threat networks.
NE	The Nuclear Enterprise Directorate provides capabilities that enable DoD warfighters, interagency stakeholders, allies and partners to ensure a safe, secure, and credible U.S. nuclear deterrent.

Who We Are and What We Do (Continued)

OB	The On-Site Inspection and Building Capacity Directorate enables the Department of Defense, the U.S. Government, and International Partners to counter and deter Weapons of Mass Destruction (WMD) by conducting Arms Control and Countering Weapons of Mass Destruction (CWMD) Building Partner Capacity Activities.
OI	The Operations and Integration Directorate provides operational understanding and analytic support in order to coordinate, integrate, and synchronize agency Operations, Activities, and Investments (OAI) and their effects against National Defense Strategy (NDS) threats.
RD	The Research and Development Directorate provides science, technology and capability development investments that maintain the U.S. military's technological superiority in countering weapons of mass destruction & asymmetric threats, mitigate the risks of technical surprise and respond to the warfighter's urgent technical requirements.
SI	The Strategic Integration Directorate enables DTRA's support to the warfighter through synchronized strategic and operational planning, and effects.

Tips for Finding Opportunities

- The DTRA Office of Small Business Programs Acquisition Forecast
 - Posted monthly online at <https://www.dtra.mil/Work-With-Us/Office-of-Small-Business/>
- Respond to Sources Sought Notices and Requests for Information (RFIs)
 - Include the capabilities of teaming partners
 - Include information about company financial responsibility (i.e. letters of credit, lines of credit, etc)
- Use SAM.gov to find opportunities
 - Use keyword searches, socioeconomic searches, agency searches, geographic searches
 - Register as an interested vendor for specific opportunities to receive automatic notices about that opportunity

- Use Federal Procurement Data System (FPDS) to find opportunities
 - For the general public accounts, DoD data is delayed by ninety days for security reasons
 - You can apply for an individual account and that data is not delayed
 - Great market research tool for upcoming opportunities
- Know your target customer
 - Standard Operating Procedures (SOP); most DTRA contracts require facility clearances
 - Mission; Organizational Structure
 - Required Sources of Supplies and Services
